

TARIFF BILL IS READY FOR PASSAGE

Measure Comes Out of the Senate Committee of the Whole, and That It Will Pass the Upper House Not Later Than Tomorrow Is Freely Predicted.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
WASHINGTON, September 7.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—The Democratic Tariff Revision Bill late last night was reported to the senate from the committee of the whole. The senate then adjourned till ten o'clock tomorrow, when consideration of the bill will be resumed.

Passage of the bill Tuesday was predicted tonight by senators on both sides.

Among matters still to be presented by minority members are amendments to the wool, cotton and metal schedules and the income tax.

Senator La Follette on Monday will discuss his amendments to the textile schedule. Senators Jones of Washington and Norris of Nebraska will offer inheritance tax amendments. Senator Norris also proposes to press a coffee valuation amendment.

The senate last night agreed to the income tax section as amended by the Democratic caucus and the finance committee, the tax of cotton futures, with the date of its operation extended to September 1, 1914, and the proposal to compel the payment of the full internal revenue tax on brandies and neutral spirits used in the manufacture of sweet wines.

The committee struck from this proposal the provision that it should not become effective until January 1, 1914, but Senator Stone announced that, owing to extensive hearings given these interested in the proposal, the committee had agreed that the whole matter should be thoroughly debated when the bill reached the conference.

WASHINGTON, September 7.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—A policeman saved President Wilson from being hurt by a streetcar here last night. The policeman threw himself in front of the car which stopped within ten feet of Mr. Wilson. The policeman received warm thanks for his promptness. The President, accompanied by his physician, Dr. Cary Grayson, had been out for a short walk and was returning to the White House. Unmindful of the traffic regulations, they had started diagonally across Pennsylvania avenue. Just as they were crossing the tracks a trolley car came along at a lively clip. A policeman, seeing the danger to the President, jumped in front of the car with both hands upraised. The motorist brought the car to an emergency stop.

TOKIO, September 7.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—The student element at whose door the assassination of Mr. Abe is laid, has been increasingly active in politics. Recently these students tried to see Baron Makino, minister of foreign relations, and submit to him a petition of the California land question.

According to the Tai-Hei-Yo news agency, the conspirators intended also to kill Premier Yamamoto and Baron Makino. Another theory is that Director Abe was mistaken by his assassins for Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the Chinese revolutionary leader whom he resembled. It was reported a month ago soon after Doctor Sun's flight for China that one hundred assassins had been sent by the Chinese government to kill Doctor Sun, General Huang Ning and other revolutionary fugitives.

Havemeyer Drops Dead in His Home

One of Organizers of Sugar Refiners as Well as One of Best Known Financiers in United States, Suddenly Stricken by Death.

NEW YORK, September 8.—(By Associated Press Cable.)—Without warning death claimed William F. Havemeyer, one of America's foremost financiers, at his home here last night. Heart disease was the cause.

Havemeyer, seated near a table, was conversing with his family a few minutes before. He was heard to gasp, and clutching at his breast he sank in his chair. Medical aid was quickly summoned, but when physicians arrived he had passed beyond all aid.

With the passing of William F. Havemeyer, America loses a citizen who has had a part in the organization of some of the most successful financial enterprises in the country. He took a part in the organization of the American Sugar Refiners' Association. At the time of his death he was president of the National Bank of North America, the Queen's County Safe Deposit Company, a director in the Van Orden Safe Deposit Company as well as numerous other trust and realty companies in New York. He also was president of the National Academy of Design. He founded the Havemeyer Laboratory at the University of New York and in an unostentatious manner liberally supported various educational and charitable institutions.

Mr. Havemeyer was a native of New York, where he was born March 21, 1850. He was married to Miss Josephine Harmon of New York April 3, 1872.

AERIAL NEWS SERVICE IS GIVEN BATTLESHIPS

WASHINGTON, August 23.—Uncle Sam's aerial "news service," whereby the officers and men on United States warships far out at sea are kept in touch with the latest news of the world, is now being tested by the navy department from the battleship Illinois, which has just returned to home waters with a big party of midshipmen. The reports were picked up readily by the vessel when it was 2175 nautical miles out at sea from the navy's powerful station at Arlington, Virginia, and 2510 miles distant from the station at Key West. The battleship also reported interrupting wireless messages from European stations.

THOUSANDS INSPECT PANAMA CANAL WORK

WASHINGTON, August 23.—A record number of tourists visited the Panama Canal Zone during the first six months of the present year, and reports received at the Isthmian Steamship office indicate that the number of visitors during the coming dry season will establish another record.

From January until July 1892 visitors inspected the great work, which is nearly as many as the entire number of sightseers who viewed the canal in 1912.

In the last four years 68,024 tourists have landed in Colon on the Atlantic side, while a few hundred only arrived at Panama City, at the Pacific entrance.

REFUGEES WILL LEAVE IN STYLE

United States to Advance Money to All Americans Who Desire to Leave Mexico, Asking Only That Money Be Repaid by Those Who Can Afford To.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
WASHINGTON, September 7.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—The United States government has just instructed American consuls in Mexico to furnish first-class transportation to the United States to those who desire it, the conditions being that the refugees later reimburse the government, if they are able, and at their convenience.

Adoption of the liberal policy was made necessary by the likelihood that many Americans would needlessly linger in the trouble district unless every facility for their departure was afforded.

Some Washington officials commented for the first time on Provisional President Huerta's declaration that if the American government was reluctant to give the refugees first-class transportation he gladly would do so.

These officials, instead of resenting the offer, remarked that it was generous, and added that they hoped Senator Huerta's beneficence would be extended to repay Americans and other foreigners for the great losses their investments had sustained through the chaos resulting from Huerta's assumption of governmental powers.

It will take at least six months before the upper court will decide both cases. Meanwhile both Diggs and Caminetti will be out, on bail.

An argument over a trivial matter last night led to an affray between two Filipinos and two Hawaiians on Dowsett lane that almost resulted in the death of the latter, Odono and Marino, the Filipinos, are now in jail, awaiting investigation, after having tried to stab their antagonists, allege the police.

Both of the Hawaiians, one of whom is part Japanese, had been taken to the hospital, but their injuries proved so slight that they were soon out again.

Joe Makahiki, the worst injured, had received a small but deep cut in the fleshy part of the back. His companion, John Matsugoro, received a slight cut on the left hand. Charges of assault with a dangerous weapon will probably be brought against the Filipinos.

French-Canadians Cheer Rich Fugitive in His Cell

Harry K. Thaw, Escaped Murderer-Maniac, in Role of Persecuted Hero Makes Speech to Deluded Sympathizers on Foreign Soil.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
COATHROCKE, Quebec, September 7.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—While the town band played "God Save the King," a great throng of people surged about Harry K. Thaw's quarters in the immigration detention station here last night and in two languages shouted their admiration for the millionaire murderer of Stanford White.

The crowd began gathering at dusk, and when the band came marching briskly up with the music so dear to the hearts of the French-Canadians, resounding on the clear night air, the pentup enthusiasm of Thaw's well wishers broke loose. They cheered him again and again and finally the crowd became so enthusiastic that the prisoner appeared at his window and delivered a brief speech of thanks.

"I am glad that you are glad that British fair play has finally won my fight," he said. "Jerome is at last unveiled to the people of Canada in his true light. He now knows that he has been beaten and he may as well go home."

"We will put Jerome in jail unless he runs away," howled the crowd. "If you give the word we will tear away your bars and put Jerome in your place."

NAVY NEVER SO WELL PREPARED FOR WAR, SAYS ADMIRAL DEWEY

ADMIRAL GEORGE DEWEY.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
PITTSFIELD, Massachusetts, September 7.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—When asked today if he regarded the United States as being prepared for any unexpected trouble with a foreign nation, Admiral George Dewey said: "So far as the Army is concerned, I am not prepared to give an opinion, but I do not hesitate to say that the Navy has never been so well prepared for war as at the present time."

Ex-Convict Who Worked Confidence Game and Grew Wealthy in Prison, Takes Life Easy in Jail.

(From Monday Advertiser.)
Resting easily in jail, unconcerned over his future fate, M. S. Kim, the Oriental Get-Rich-Quick Wallflower, who fell into the hands of the police after a spectacular bucco career of two weeks, will awake this morning to find himself not yet charged, but destined to be soon, say the authorities.

The police have practically made up their minds that the most important charge that they can place against him is gross fraud, but have so many of them that they believe, so they announced yesterday, that they can pin him behind the bars for a period long enough to satisfy everybody.

Suzumoto Heaviest Loser.

Out of two scores possible charges arising out of his dealings with T. Suzumoto, the police do not believe that they will present more than several of the most important, particularly those supported by the document. Kim swore to, which the police say is a fraud.

Suzumoto is the Japanese whom he lured out of over $2200 while he was still in jail serving a three-year sentence.

Among these there are easily a score of charges that can be preferred against him by backdrivers, both of Honolulu and country districts, it is alleged. The police will rely on these to get Kim two or more years in jail, exclusive of other charges, and on the whole believe that his transactions during the few weeks he has been at liberty will send him "across" for five years on minimum sentences if they proceed in all cases.

Only one of the backdrivers has fledged out the best of Kim, and he was a Waipahu man who knew him and his reputation. He drove Kim to the railroad station, and upon his refusal to pay took his spectacles from him, which he still holds.

An Old-Time Offender.

Albert Maelufo, one of the rascals who fell a victim to Kim's wiles, reported to the police that when he went to collect his bill of ten dollars, Kim offered him a pig from "his" ranch at Moiliuli for half the bill and agreed to pay him the balance later.

The ranch was that of Suzumoto, his first and greatest victim. Not only did he get $2200 from this man, but borrowed money on the strength of owning the place and caused attachments to be issued against it and then distributed the livestock on it to pay for his other debts.

The police stated yesterday that they had had an interview with Kim which had proved extremely satisfactory. It would not give out the details. It has been ascertained that the Korean has served one term for larceny, three for embezzlement and one for impersonating a federal officer.

AWAKEN TO FIND HOME ABLAZE

F. E. Davis Has Thrilling Early-Morning Experience in His Burning Residence at Diamond Head—Property Owned by Canon Osborne Completely Destroyed—Loss Estimated at Fifteen Thousand Dollars.

(From Monday Advertiser.)

Fifteen thousand dollars is the approximate cost of a fire which destroyed the home of F. E. Davis, head of F. E. Davis & Company, at half-past one o'clock yesterday morning at Diamond Head. The house was the property of the Rev. Canon John Osborne, and both the structure and everything in it were a total loss.

The unpleasant experience of being notified by firemen to arise and make way for the chemical squads was that befaling the Davis family by a telephone message from neighbors notified the fire department of the blaze before those in the building knew it themselves. Both for this reason and for the remoteness from the fire-fighting facilities, the fire gained quick headway, and when the department arrived it was plain that it would not be possible to save anything or any part of the building.

Hose Company No. 5 of the Kaimuki station responded to the alarm, but the fifteen hundred feet of hose carried by it proved three hundred feet too short to reach the fire, and it had to be attacked with chemicals. These proved insufficient, and the firemen quickly abandoned their use, turning their attention to nearby houses, which were endangered to a considerable degree. None of them caught, however.

The house was erected about ten years ago, substantially and handsomely built, matching the pleasant homes of Honolulu's wealthy which have clustered around the foot of Diamond Head, particularly during the latter years.

Mr. Osborne, the owner, stated yesterday that the place was insured, but he did not know for how much or in what company.

WAILUKU, September 6.—Haleakala has had many visitors during the past couple of weeks and, chief among them, was Bonine, the well-known photographer of Honolulu. He took along his moving picture outfit and obtained some movies that he declares are the best ever taken of the cloud effects in the huge crater. These films will be shown all over the world, in conjunction with Bonine's excellent "movies" of the Kilauea Volcano.

Another party made the Haleakala trip and then stayed in the crater for a week. The members of the party camped in a cave, rode about by day, swam in the lake and had the time of their lives. The horses were turned out to the pasture at night and they did well on the grass that abounded in places.

The party reports that the famous Silver Sword plant is to be seen in abundance in the crater. The water in the lake is very cold and bottom mud is not found in the center. Those making the trip were A. C. Rattray, Miss Turner, Doctor Aiken, Miss Aiken, Mr. Starratt, Miss Starratt, Miss Vanderhoof and Miss Arnold.

Some of the party returned via Oahu to Wailuku and Kahului, while the rest proceeded through the gap to Hana.

WAILUKU, September 6.—County Engineer Bruene returned from Molokai Tuesday. He reports that the new taro land at Wailau will soon be under cultivation. There are ninety acres of fine taro land, and there is an abundance of water also. A company headed by Alicka Dowsett will cultivate the land and J. Collins will be in charge of operations. It is figured that a big crop of the edible root will be raised, and that not only the Molokai Settlement but outside people will be able to get plenty of taro in the near future.

The new road that is to be constructed from the taro patches to the landing will be started at once. There is only a stretch of 300 feet to build and then the transportation of the taro will be easy. A derrick will be provided and, as there is a small shelter over the shipping of the taro will be attended with no great difficulty.

Bruene also visited Kaunakakai where the pipeline that brings water from a waterhead seven miles away in the mountains, is nearly completed. In a month from now water will be flowing through the pipeline and Kaunakakai people will be well provided with the precious fluid.

Asks Police to Protect Girls

Gay Lochinvars in Big Automobiles Raid Girls' Industrial School at Night, Says Superintendent in Appeal for Help.

Neither the government nor the government's agents can find locks strong enough to defy the particular cupid that has taken up its abode in the Girls' Industrial School, Kapahulu, and as a result Superintendent Gibson of the department of public instruction has asked for police assistance in keeping out the swains deprived of the object of their affections through the order of the juvenile court.

Superintendent Gibson stated that there was one girl particularly that laughed at the most extreme devices intended to enforce her attendance in the nice new cottages at night. She has escaped various ways through the windows and other ways, and the one watchman who is kept on the place has not yet got his thinking apparatus going faster than hers.

The gentle young Lochinvars, it is said, come for the young women in automobiles, great big seven-seated ones that ought to be on the stand earning money for their owners, and after the town has been covered generously they take them back to the school, where they manage to slip in with the same caution and secrecy that they observed getting out.

The superintendent only gave the police one name, but understands that there are others. Sheriff Jarrett was unable to spare a man to watch the place, but offered to commission the watchman and give him authority to arrest the first man who entered the premises at night.

Advices From Maui State That Question of Engaging in Rum-making Business Is Being Considered by Sugar Men, in Order to Meet Threatened Free Trade Damage.

(From Monday Advertiser.)

The manufacture of rum to compete with the famous Jamaica product, it is said, is being seriously considered by the sugar planters of Maui as a means for better meeting the competition which Hawaii sugar must meet with the taking off of the tariff on sugar.

It is said by those who understand the rum-making process that it is far cheaper to turn the molasses into liquor than it is to produce the sugar and that better prices can be secured for Hawaiian rum. The island liquor it is claimed, also has a better flavor than the Jamaica product.

A private letter from Maui states that the sugar producers of that island do not intend, if it can be prevented, to stand by and see their industry completely destroyed as a result of the threatened removal of the tariff. The letter says:

"The weather here has been ideal for sugar growth and the thousand acres of new land planted last year is showing magnificent. The rain at night and warm sun during the day has been ideal sugar weather. The plantations expect a large crop. Hawaiian Commercial experts prophesy thirty-five thousand tons for the season but as they are ultra-conservative it will probably go past that mark."

"As to the tariff and its effects the people here are very wide awake. Two experts of the H. A. C. are abroad now looking into the refinery processes on the mainland with a view to getting the best of those applicable here and adopting them for the production of a grade of sugar that will not be hit by the tariff."

"It is said, also, that the companies will not be above making rum to compete with the Jamaica product in case the axe falls. By-products are to have attention also so that Hawaii may not be so bad off after all. Of one thing the plantations in this vicinity are convinced and that is that the cost of getting the cane to the mill is higher than it should be. In some instances a husband and wife are earning a hundred and five dollars a month by day labor. The women pile the cane so that it will be easier for the men to handle and get on the cars. If Messrs. Wilson and Underwood succeed in getting through the objectionable tariff bill Maui will be as ready to meet it as any of the other islands."

"It has been proved that the common variety of beach sand here is capital stuff, for use in the refineries when turned into lime; another point for Maui."

WAILUKU, September 6.—Paia tennis players are going strong, and the semi-annual tournament is being played off. So far, Stanley Richardson has figured in every match on account of his leaving for the mainland on a vacation.

Richardson met four men during the last week and he defeated them all as follows: Hebert, 6-0, 6-0; Collins, 6-2, 5-7, 6-2; Burns, 6-0, 6-1; Rosecrans, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

The new court at Paia is in fine condition, and the ball bounces very truly from it. The second court will soon be ready, and then there is talk of a big opening day.

10,000 SHOW FOR WAR IN TOKIO

Historic Park in Japanese Capital, Where Thousands I nounced the Government Portsmouth Peace Treaty With Russia Is Again Scene of Demonstration, Says Report.

(Special Cable to The Nippon Jiji.)
TOKIO, September 7.—A great demonstration against China was carried out here this afternoon at one o'clock when over 10,000 angered Japanese citizens, including most of the young students in various universities and colleges in Tokio, attended a monster meeting held in the historic Hibiya Park, in the very center of the Japanese capital.

The mass meeting was held under the auspices of the Taishu Doshikai, the Japanese Society for the Chinese Policies, and was well attended by men of prominence in the political life of Japan as well as the general public. The scene at the park was an extraordinary one.

Strong Resolution Passed.

After a series of inflammatory addresses were made by the leaders of the meeting, the chairman of the day ready a lengthy resolution with strong words setting forth the series of insults, outrages and massacres committed by the Chinese soldiers at Nanking, Hankow and many other places along the Yangtze River on Japanese
